To whom it may concern

This is only the first year that we have been associated with Chigle, but we are well pleased with their service.

Chigle have recently assisted us in rolling out 70 new workstations and a new server. They have impressed us from the beginning with their friendliness, flexibility and their determination to make our task easier for us.

The accumulated wisdom and experience of Chigle staff is an asset well worth tapping into. We have no hesitation recommending Chigle to any organisation looking for Information Technology supplies and support.
